

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Thursday, February 26

1998

Griner to Present ISO 9000 Audit Results on TV Fri. Afternoon

Acting Center Director Carolyn Griner will announce final results of the ISO 9000 audit for Marshall Center certification on center-wide TV at 2:30 p.m., Friday. Registrars from National Quality Assurance conducted this three-day audit for ISO 9000 certification, the quality management system of the International Organization for Standards.

MSFC
Employee
Update, 10 a.m.,
March 11 in Morris Auditorium

Space Station Program Sponsors Interactive Telecast, Noon Thurs.

The International Space Station Program will sponsor a two-hour telecast "Open for Business" noon-2 p.m. CST, Thursday, where research and business professionals can discuss Station-based research with a panel of NASA experts. The Station's U.S. elements are being built at Marshall. Visit www.pbs.org/als/programs/live to view it live on the Web or to locate a downlink site.

Myers-Briggs Assessment Tool Offered at CTAP Center

The Career Training Assistance Program (CTAP) now offers the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator to Marshall employees and spouses. This assessment tool defines and provides information allowing better understanding of your personality type that can lead to increased job satisfaction. Contact: Jean Clark, 961-1354.